PLAN $1,000,000 WATER SUPPLY

COMMISSION CONSIDERING 3 PROJECTS

THREE WATER SUPPLY PROJECTS CONSIDERED

1—Marin watershed supply at cost of $2,500,000. Twelve miles of piping, and reservoir included.

Sacramento and San Joaquin river supply from False river $3,000,000. Forty miles of pipe line, pumping stations, filter plant and reservoir included.

Snow mountain project 150 miles of piping reservoir and distributing system $1,150,000. Intake to be located near Clear Lake.

Directors of the Richmond Municipal Water Commission are considering three immense water supply projects for this city following an exhaustive report submitted to the commission on all three projects by J. H. Dockweiler, water expert last night.

Only two of the projects are deemed feasible by the commission, the Snow Mountain supply being a little too far distant for practical purposes.

Representatives of the Snow Mountain Water company informed the commission that a guarantee to use 10,000,000 gallons of water daily at 18¢ per 1000 gallons would have to be agreed upon before their company could construct a pipe line to this city.

Dockweiler, estimated the conservative supply of Richmond at 3,000,000 gallons of water daily.

According to the completed reports of the water expert, the Marin county supply would cost in the neighborhood of four or five cents per 1000 gallons while a supply of 5,000,000 gallons could easily be had.

In the consideration of the Sacramento and San Joaquin river supply project with a filtration and pumping plant near Carquinez straits the supply would cost twenty-two cents per 1000 gallons with an unlimited supply.

No final action will be taken by the commission until the latter part of April at which time all projects will have been fully investigated.

REFUSES TO CIRCULATE PETITION

POLICE DEPARTMENT IS TOP-HEAVY

As the days go by, more and more creeps out in regard to the investigation that is being made by the committee of the whole of the council into the affairs of the police department. There is a general feeling of unrest abroad in the land.

The next session of the committee will be held some time next week but some particular phases of the matter will probably bob up at the regular session of the council Monday evening.

The top-heaviness of the police department will be taken up, and the matter sifted from top to bottom. ncluding the chief there are sixteen members of the department, and some of the councilmen who have been quietly probing into affairs unhesitatingly declare that seven would be a super abundance. If this action is taken it would mean a saving to the city of about $700 per month, with no crippling of the efficiency of the department in any manner whatever.

Councilman Penry in speaking of the matter said that in towns of similar size in British Columbia that they have but one policeman and he took care of everything without any trouble.

It is said that some parties who are interested in the police investigation went to Charles Walker of the firm of Jones, Adkison and McRacken and asked him to circulate a petition expressing confidence in Chief of Police Charles Walker, but he refused, to circulate a petition for anyone, as he was of the opinion that he had enough notoriety in the affair as it was.

Secretary Levi Boswell of the Tax Payers' association of Richmond is very much interested in the investigation that is now taking place, and it is his idea that efficiency should be the aim of the council, and an earnest endeavor to cut the police force down to one half of what it now is—what he calls a sensible number.

When the budget was made up by the council last year, the police department asked for four additional patrolmen, but this the Tax Payers association opposed as well as Mayor Garrard and others. The result was that but one additional man was given the department.

The members of the council who have discussed this matter say they are not aiming their criticism alone at the police department of the city, but particularly the fire department.

Officials of the city, who are in very close touch with the inner affairs of Richmond, but who does not wish to be known in the matter stated today:

"After this investigation is over there is going to be a great clean-up."

Chinaman Fears Prison Term; Escapes

"For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the heathen Chinee is peculiar."

The above applies to Oliver Chin, proprietor of a chop suey restaurant, Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue, arrested for selling lottery tickets.

Chin, represented by Attorneys Wilbur S. Pierce and W. D. Grady made his first appearance in the police court Thursday morning. A forty-eight hour stay of sentence was granted Chin in which to plead.

This morning at 9:30 o'clock he presented himself for sentence.

Chin in pigeon English requested that the judge hold back his sentence until his attorneys should arrive.

Pierce and Grady when notified by Judge Jacobs asked that the case be postponed until 11 o'clock. The request was granted.

When Judge Jacobs called court at 11 o'clock Oliver Chin, defendant in the lottery arrest could not be found.

A cash bond of $100 which Chin had placed with the police following his arrest was declared forfeited by the judge while a bench warrant issued for his arrest.

Rumors flitting about the court forecasted a prison sentence for Chin instead of the usal fine. Chin heard of the rumors and scampered away.

Wow! No "Licker" at Park This Summer

There will be no liquor sold at picnics given at Grand Canyon park this year. The owners of the park have decided on this. They are B. Schaprio, John E. Bouquet and F. Cascioni. In fact the sale of liquor in the park has been barred by them for good.

Picnics will be held as usual, and some dates have been signed up already, but they will be church picnics or such others as do not involve the sale of liquor.

The beautiful park will be kept open free to the public as usual.

It is becoming more popular, all the time, not only with Richmond people but with residents of Oakland, San Francisco and other cities. Many people do not know the beauties of the park, which is heavily wooded and has fascinating roads and trails and resting places beside the clear stream.

The Key System line that runs to the park brings many visitors. Families and parties with lunches are numerous there very day during good weather.

"GET VILLA DEAD OR ALIVE" IS ORDER

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Latest reports of the whereabouts of General Villa say he reached Ascension, south of Palomas, yesterday with 300 followers after his flight from Columbus. This information reached here today in a message to the Carranza embassy from Consul Andreas Garcia at El Paso.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The American campaign to "get" General Villa, the Mexican bandit, was well under way today, according to war department officials. Permission to print progress of the movement, however, was refused.

General Frederick Funston is expected to arrive at the border within twenty-four hours from Fort Sam Houston. It is believed he will have American troops moving into Mexico before nightfall. General Funston is known to oppose delay.

The first Cavalry Brigade, under Brigadier General Parker, and the Second Brigade, under Colonel Geo. A. Dodd, and other units are moving.

General Funston, because of the presence of Mexican spies along the border, has ordered the suppression of all news regarding the movement of troops.

Agents along the border were being reformed today.

Investigation was in progress of reports that General Villa is well financed. Every effort also was being made to prevent the smuggling of arms and munitions across the border.

SORRY AT PORTUGAL'S MOVE IN WAR

It is perhaps this friendliness which has been paramount in severing German's relationship with Portugal. There are 80,000 Portuguese in the United States subject to a call from their mother country. It is my opinion that 20,000 of these will be called within the next 30 days."

Silveira, is a native of the town of St. George on the Azora islands and landed in New York seventeen years ago.

A. D. Andrade, wealthy landowner and capitalist of San Pablo expressed deep sorrow at Portugal's move in the war. Andrade is a native of Fayal, Portugal and settled in San Pablo 46 years ago. He has a brother Joseph Andrade in the army now.

Believing that he had reached the years of discretion, Frederick Durant Wake, a substitute letter carrier, slipped quietly from his duties at the Sixth street postoffice to Oakland yesterday afternoon where he claimed Miss Lettie Gibbs of San Jose as his bride.

Postal attaches are positive in their opinions that the marriage was the culmination of an elopement.

THE VERDUN DRIVE

The Germans are pounding furiously at Verdun, and it is quite possible that they may succeed in taking it, though according to the experts of the allies victory there would not be worth the price paid for it. Evidently the Germans view the situation differently. The crown prince has not been a successful commander in the past, and it is just possible that much has been staked in the hope of gaining prestige for the house of Hohenzollern. The capture of Verdun would reinstate Frederick William in the good graces of the German people, would make a hero of the son who is to succeed the kaiser on the throne. While von Moltke commanded, the crown prince of that time bore a conspicuous part in the Franco Prussian war, and it was his clock-work precision in carrying out the scheme of the chief of staff that enabled the Germans to bag the French army and emperor at Sedan."

But the wonder is that, with such vast forces concentrated by the Germans at Verdun, the British are so inactive in Flanders and the Russians so quiet on the eastern front where the Teuton lines must be considerably thinned. Since the beginning of the war, for some unexplained reason, there has been lack of teamwork among the allies. Also there has been lack of good generalship.

Suwarrow, the Russian, was a master of tactic in his eighties. Moltke the German, in his seventies, and Turenne, the Frenchman, in his sixties. But commonly the great captain is at his best in his forties. All of the commanders of this war are old men, which may account for so much brutal fighting, so much ruthless sacrifice of human life that gets nowhere. It will be remembered that our own Sheridan had learned the lessons of war in his thirties and Conde in his teens.

It is true that today the profession of war is more a matter of study and the practice of years than of the intuitive grasping of genius, because it has been perfected through generations of able exponents and by the experience of many great wars; because also the instruments of war have become highly technical, and the equipment and supply of vast citizen armies the business of lifelong experts.

The British have begun to learn these facts. The retirement of General Sir John French in his sixty-fifth year and the substitution of Sir John Douglas Haig, in his forty-fourth, is in the line of past experience. Haig is a young man, as were Grant and Sherman, as was the Prussian Red Prince, as was Arthur Wellesly when he landed in Portugal.

The Russian, Skobeleff, scarcely thirty-three, invented the new tactics of assault that took Plevna. He evolved those new tactics from study of the American civil war, especially of Stonewall Jackson. The European war has been directed, so far, by highly trained masters of the military profession, rather than by captains of genius. No German general is a Prince Frederick Charles; no Russian, a Skobeleff; no Frenchman, a Marshal Devoust; no Englishman, a Wellington.

After the failure of the furious drive of von Kluck, the Germans have resorted to the tactics of trying to blast their way through enemy fronts by means of artillery fire followed up by massed infantry attacks. They usually gain some ground at awful cost of human life. The allies rely upon repelling these attacks and killing as many Germany as possible while the struggle is going on. Unless some tactical genius arises, the war is one of exhaustion and cannot be ended otherwise.

TREATING HABIT IS PERNICIOUS

Less than a month ago in Sacramento a little coterie of hard-headed men who thought they saw a way to bring about an important practical reform in the sphere of social morals, launched the "No Thank You League."

"No Thank Youism" is aimed directly at the pernicious treating habit now so prevalent in public drinking places. It proposes no invasion of personal liberty, nor does it circumcribe a person's pleasures in the least.

The scheme was well thought out by its founders, as one may readily observe by the wording of the commitment which every member signs by which he agrees, "not to take an intoxicating drink in a saloon at another's invitation or expense." He may treat another if he so wishes, which sometimes avoids the embarassing accusation of stinginess, or of being a "tight wad." But his chance invariably comes to refuse the come back drink. This gives him the opportunity to argue the point with his friend and invariably they both agree that they do not need the second one and the leaguer has made a convert to the cause.

The founders had no way of learning the sentiment of the people on this phase of the liquor traffic before the plan was tried and were unprepared in a way, to cope with the splendid support which has been given the "no thank you" idea throughout all of California.

The first week found the league's stock of 2000 "No Thank You" buttons exhausted; with letters and telegrams pouring in from all parts of California, from persons clamoring for membership, ready and willing to join and solicit members and establish local leagues in their respective communities, all for the good of the cause.

The idea has spread to the east and already a group of practical men in St. Louis are forming a league there, based upon the Sacramento plan and its pledge.

Until such time as local leagues are formed in each county, persons desiring to join should send their names to the leagues headquarters, 1008 4th St., Sacramento, Cal. There is no cost for membership or buttons.

A crazy man has a hard time convincing the world that he may get over it.

A square deal won't satisfy, because the best of it is what people are looking for.

Poverty sometimes seems to cause folks to economize on soap more than anything else.

Spring fever probably spreads faster than any other contagion known to medical science.

Someone suggests that the heroic British forces in Flanders should make an attack of their own while the Germans are busy, but it has taken all their time and energy to read the newspapers about the Verdun fighting.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

PANTAGES THEATRE (Oakland)

"Oh a Cannibal's a maid, dressed light
Who jumps about in manner bright
While crows applaud her with delight;—
At least, in vaudeville, every night!"
(Unpublished poem of F. Bush)

The Cannibal maids are coming! They're the maddest, merriest galaxy of comic stars that ever lifted their feet in lieu of joyous voices, or tread on a missionary's toes in the approved cannibalistic style.

They're going to dance and sing in an Anglicized sort of South sea way, with many a quip and jest, to say nothing of a few new and catchy songs, to help along the joy-mixture.

This remarkable vaudeville act, the latest and best of the clever bits manager Pantages has imported from the east, is to head one of the biggest aggregations of real joy in the shape of vaudeville material ever assembled in a Pantages house during the coming week. It's to be one big dream of mirth and joy—and there'll be a little music and some good "straight stuff" to help it along.

The Spring vaudeville bills are to be the big bills of the season. There'll be big attractions after big attractions, starting with the coming week's bill in which Frank Bush, the most famous of story tellers—who says he's no relation to Joe Bush—and the Cannibal maids with Gus Elmore, the noted comedian, will divide honors.

Then there'll be a notable attraction in the Imperial troupe of trick cyclists, a great act in which daring tracksters defy air and gravity to perform their dangerous and startling evolutions.

Grace McCormack, the famous violinist, will be heard in some of her best numbers, and Jay Hanna and Leah Hatch will present their remarkable little sketch "The Prodigal Daughter," one of the best of the dramatic features in vaudeville today. The dramatic sketch will be presented by an all star cast, and has been lauded by critics in every engagement on "Big Time" in the East.

Manager Pantages new Spring bills are taken from the choicest of the "big time acts," and comprise bill never before seen in Oakland at less than "big time" prices. In other words, they are offering acts of the largest of the first class circuits at popular prices and further establishing Manager Pantages claim to first class bills at all times. The Steiner Trio, a horizontal bar act of class, and Rice and Newton, in "Fun in One" are other attractions on the big bill, and another episode of "The Girl and the Game" will be seen.

Booked for the near future are Grace Cameron, the famous comedienne, Carman's minstrels, and the famous photoplay sensation, "The Iron Claw."

HEED THE WARNING

Many Richmond People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Richmond people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. E. E. Klein, 1812 Nevin Ave., Richmond, says: "Some time ago I felt that my condition needed attention. I felt weak and the least work wore me out. My kidneys were in bad shape and I often had attacks of backache. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they made a complete cure. I no longer feel nervous or run-down."

Get the miles you pay for Mixed gasoline means less kick and less mileage. The heavier vapor, being too "slow," burns without exploding.

Red Crown
the Gasoline of Quality

gives you the miles you pay for. It is a straight refinery gasoline—not a mixture. It atomizes easily—explodes quickly, completely.

WESTERN OIL MEETS NEEDS OF THE HIGH SPEED MOTORS

"Developments in the modern automobile engine have resulted in a very high-speed motor," said D. J. Cornell local representative of the Standard Oil company, when asked to explain the attitude recently taken by motor-experts in favor of western oil.

"Many of the most recent models operate at over 3000 R. P. M." said Cornell. "What is needed now is an oil that will burn up completely without decomposing, and pass off on exhaust; thus leaving no carbon to interfere with the smooth operation of high speed motors.

"This explains why gas engine experts have recently begun to recommend motor oil made from asphalt-base crude. Asphalt-base crude belongs to the naphthene series of petroleums, which have the unique property of distilling without decomposition, and so leave behind no carbon deposit.

"It is interesting to see how this works out in practise. Take the Hudson. This car has a high-speed motor—over 3000 R. P. M. All but three of the one hundred and sixty-seven Hudson owners in one of the larger coast cities are using oil made from asphalt-base crude and are getting better results than with any other oil. That is only one instance of conditions prevailing all over the coast."

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug sore. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BIG MEN ENLISTED IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN

More Than One Hundred Cities Already Interested.

The American Bankers Association, which has a membership of more than fifteen thousand banks in the United States, is conducting a great nation-wide campaign of education to promote thrift. Preachers and educators, business men and bankers, social workers and employees of labor are combining their efforts, supporting the work of advocating the cause of this important campaign carried on by a mighty association.

At the present time more than one hundred cities are, locally, conducting this thrift campaign. The work has been thoroughly organized by the American Bankers Association. Committees composed of bankers, educators, social workers, etc., have been formed in each one of these cities, and the campaign is being conducted under their direction.

Some of the foremost men of the country are members of a national commission which heads this campaign. Among them are:

Wm. Howard Taft, Gov. Charles S. Whitman of New York, John N. Willys of Toledo, O.; James K. Lynch, President of the A. B. A.; T. M. Dodson of Bethlehem, Pa.; Frank Trumbull, Chairman of Board Chesapeake & Ohio RR.; Hugh Chalmers of Detroit, R. V. Covington of Jacksonville, Thomas A. Edison, C. H. Ellis of New Orleans, John V. Farwell of Chicago, James B. Forgan of Chicago, Lewis B. Franklin of New York, Cardinal Gibbons, A. J. Hemphill, A. Barton Hepburn, Myron T. Herrick, George S. Johns, William A. Scott, University of Wisconsin; E. C. Simmons of St. Louis, Mo.; William Sproule, President Southern Pacific Co.

The climax of the campaign will be in November of this year when an International Thrift Congress will be held in New York City.

One of the prime features of the campaign is the extension of school savings banks,—funds established for the purpose of receiving a small savings of school children and encouraging the habit of systematic accumulations. There is no greater field for the inculcation of habits of thrift in the minds of the people than these banks. The Jesuit Fathers used to say, "Give me the child until he is seven years old, then you can have him." If the child is taught in this practical way to save his money systematically there is no doubt that he will acquire valuable habits of living; he will become a better manager of his private affairs; he will be more economical and he will have greater foresight. Just recently one hundred and eighty-two school banks were organized in Detroit. In the campaign in New York City they are aiming to establish one hundred new school banks by the first of May. Through the "New York Mail" an attempt is being made to raise fifty thousand dimes for the school children; that is, a dime will be given to each child as soon as he accumulates his first ninety cents in the new banks. Under the system known as the "Brooklyn Plan" originated by A. N. Clark, who is the chairman of the Centennial Committee for the Extension of School Savings in New York City, the children operate the bank themselves under the supervision of one of the teachers who is also the treasurer of the bank. Each child in the eighth year class takes his turn at filling various positions in the bank from messenger to President. They have a Board of Directors composed of twenty-four children, who meet regularly and discuss the affairs of the bank. At the end of the school year and when these eighth year pupils graduate, in addition to the diploma of graduation they are given a certificate showing that they have filled the various positions in the school bank. The pupils use these certificates as recommendations to secure positions.

There is no doubt that this thrift campaign will create a new interest in thrift, a new understanding of the subject. There will not be as much extravagance and waste. The people will live within their incomes and not mortgage everything they own.

SHELL COMPANY TO INSTALL NEW RACKS

(Special to Record-Herald)

MARTINEZ, March 11.—Rapid progress is being made at the Shell plant in the construction of the loading racks for tank cars which are being built beside the main spur line just west of the Bachman corner entrance to the plant. With the starting of refining work it is necessary to make provision for the loading of cars and a temporary wooden loading rack was erected which is now in use, being capable of loading three tank cars at once.

The new loading rack will accomodate ten tank cars with provision being made for the increasing of this number at any time. It is to be built entirely of steel and fire proof. The building of this rack will give two loading stations the one at the old shell station which is to become the shipping department of the refinery continuing in use.

TEACHING BOYS TO SAVE.

A certain father has devised a rather novel plan to develop resisting power in his boys. Knowing the value of self-control, especially in money matters, he gives each boy a weekly allowance, with the stipulation that it must be carried in the pocket during the week, and only half of it spent. One boy receives twenty cents each week. If he produces a dime at the week end, he gets another twenty cents; if he doesn't he gets only a dime. The other boy receives a dime and must produce a nickel to get another dime. There is thus a constant opportunity to spend, but a constant incentive to save—to resist. It may be that the reward spurs them on, but the fact remains that this father is developing resisting power in the boys that will stand them in good stead in after years.
